4 die in State Road 80 crash

FOUR people were killed as a result of injuries incurred in this accident on SR 80, Sunday, April 22.

BELLE GLADE - Four people died after a two-car collision, Sunday, April 22, on SR 80 at Six-Mile Bend.

Freda Wright, 43, Lake Park; Clinton R. White, 69; June D. White, 66; Emily J. D'Almaine, all of Kenneth City, died in the accident.

The accident culminated an 10-day span in which eight people died in Glades traffic fatalities.

According to a report on Sunday's incident filed by Florida Highway Patrol Troopers A.O. McNair Jr. and G.M. Kline, three of the four victims died instantly. Mrs. White was declared dead at Good Samaritan Hospital at about 8:30 p.m., Sunday.

The collision occurred at about 4:25, Sunday, when Wright's 1982 Toyota two-door and White's 1981 Chevy four-door hit head on, 3.2 miles east of Belle Glade on SR 80.

Details of what transpired were not yet available, as troopers were still investigating the case.

Another man died Wednesday, April 18, after driving into a canal just north of South Bay.

Troopers J.A. Mims and L.C. Herold said Pablo Rodriguez Medina, 28, 149 Adlo Circle, South Bay, died sometime Wednesday night after being trapped in his overturned car submerged in water and mud in a canal just off Island Road.

Rodriguez pulled off the north shoulder of Island Road, drove off the south shoulder and flipped into the canal, according to the troopers.

Troopers also identified Lucious S. McCormick, of Fort Pierce, as the man killed in a fatality on US 27, about four miles north of South Bay, on Thursday, April 12.

McCormick died after he lost control of his vehicle which flipped off the roadway. A passenger, Stephens Joseph, of West Palm Beach, is receiving treatment at St. Mary's Hospital, in West Palm Beach.

Keys to better housing reviewed

By TOM KISKEN

BELLE GLADE - Leadership and energy can bring improved housing to Belle Glade, members of a local housing group were told Tuesday, April 24.

Neighbors Organized for Adequate Housing (NOAH), which hopes to significantly upgrade local housing, discussed their aims with representatives from similar organizations, in a special meeting at the old Belle Glade Civic Center Tuesday.

Before the meeting, all the guests indicated confidence in NOAH's ability to bring a successful housing program to Belle Glade. Carl House, of the Futurists Group of Palm Beach County, said "There's no mistaking you'll make it, if you have the leadership and the energy."

Caroline Brown, of the Jubilee Housing Program in Washington D.C., said she came to Belle Glade to offer any advice or support possible.

Jubilee Housing, Brown said, is proof that a community housing group can make a difference.

Started up by the Church of the Saviour about 10 years ago, Jubilee has bought and renovated five apartment buildings, providing upgraded housing for over 300 inner city families. Renova-

Plane crashes into lake

CANAL POINT - After crash landing his plane into Lake Okechobee, Sunday night, April 22, a man swam to safety unharmed.

Joseph Veillon Jr., 33, of Homestead, reported that he was forced to land on the lake after his single engine Piper Cub quit on him about one-half mile west of Canal Point Dike.

According to Palm

Beach County Sheriff's Department Glades Substation's report, Elzie Batchelor originally reported that he had seen a small plane go down, at about 6:30 p.m. Sunday, April 22.

The Sheriff's Department dispatched two rescue boats in the area, one which picked up Veillon about 400 yards from the aircraft. Veillon later reported

Gary Morris to perform here

BELLE GLADE - Country and western singing star Gary Morris will appear in concert at Belle Glade's Dolly Hand Cultural Arts Center 8 p.m. Thursday, May 3.

In September, 1980, Gary Morris released his first Warner Bros. single, "Sweet Red Wine." Cash Box immediately predicted that "country music will have another hot act." With a succession of five top ten singles and his first album on Billboard charts for six months, this prediction has quickly proved true.

Gary's string of hit records began with the smash country rocker, "Headed For A Heartache," followed by "Don't Look Back" and "Dreams Die Hard." These three songs made Gary Billboard's New Male Singles Artist Of The Year for 1982. The hits have continued with "Velvet Chains," the

Legionnaires specialize in community work

By TOM KISKEN

BELLE GLADE - Community work is the pass word these days at the American Legion Everglades Post 20 headquarters.

Commander Fred Youchock said the legion had taken special pains during the last year to help those in the community with needs. "When we hear of a need, we act," he said.

Such projects as putting together about $5,000 worth of Christmas food packages for needy families has made the past year a particularly gratifying one for Post 20 members.

"I've gotten a lot of satisfaction... principally from the 'good of community' projects we've done," said one post member.

Other legion accomplishments over the last year amplify this concern for the community. Over $10,000 was raised in three projects to help families who had been hit with tragedies.

The post also made personal contributions to the Bohannon and Kohorst funds to help families meet growing hospital bills.

"We've just had a great successful year," Youchock said. "People say we're just a lot of drunks, but really we're here for community work."

The community is starting to change its stereotypical view of the legion, Youchock said, noting the post achieved record membership growth during the last year. Some 46 members joined the post during the year, bringing the membership total to 213, or a 27 percent increase over last year's total.

In fact, the post was the first in its district to achieve 100 percent membership renewal. The previous year, legion membership had actually decreased, showing just how significant this

Clocks to spring ahead, DST returns

That clock-changing time of the year is nearly upon us again.

Sunday, April 29, at 2 a.m. most of the country observes Daylight Saving Time.

Using the old adage of "spring forward, fall back" remember to set your clock ahead one hour when you retire Saturday night.

Daylight Savings Time will be with us until October, when we once again return to Eastern Standard Time.

Utilities director to retire, replacement sought

PAHOKEE—The Pahokee City Council will meet, Monday, April 30, at 7:30 p.m. to discuss a replacement for retiring Utilities Director Bill Cross.

Council members indicated, at their meeting, Tuesday, April 24, that they would review all applications received for an assistant utilities director position. The assistant director would train under Cross and then serve as utilities director upon his retirement.

Cross told the council that although his retirement is not effective until August, he plans to use a month of vacation time before retiring.

Council President Ada Conley noted the city has only two months to find a replacement for Cross. "I think it's time we did something," she said.

City Clerk Betty McCoy estimated 20 applications had been submitted for the assistant utilities position.

In related news, Building Inspector Phelix Slonaker told the council that he is considering retirement, for medical reasons. Slonaker asked the council to begin looking for a new inspector.

Other agenda items included:

City Engineer Jim Suddarth recommended the city declare its wastewater treatment situation an emergency to facilitate purchase of equipment needed for the plant. Attorney Mike Stauder said the city could forgo soliciting bids, if an emergency was declared.

Suddarth expressed fear that unless the city continued to move forward on mandated plant corrections, the Environmental Protection Agency might take action against the city.

While both the Department of Environmental Regulations and the Department of Health have both issued warnings to the city, the EPA has not yet acted. Suddarth said that if the EPA decides to take action, it would be to impose strict regulations on the city.

Overall, Suddarth said, progress is being made at the wastewater plant. Cross said he is still operating short-handed, noting he could use three extra men at the plant.

Property, no longer of use to the city, will be auctioned off at the city barn, Saturday, June 2, beginning at 10 a.m.

Pahokee Elementary School Principal Harris Blumberg thanked the council and Police Chief Carmen Salvatore III for making E. Main Place a one-way street in front of the school. At an earlier council meeting, Blumberg requested some action be taken on the street to insure safety of students.

Council members will discuss a proposed summer recreation program at their next meeting, Tuesday, May 8.

Man arrested for attempted murder

BELLE GLADE—A local man was charged with attempted murder in a shooting incident, Saturday, April 21, which left the victim in critical condition at Good Samaritan Hospital.

Will Jackson, 59, 556 West Ave. A, No. 2, Belle Glade, was arrested in connection with the shooting of Willie Williams, 29, 556 West Ave. A, No. 1.

Jackson was released on his own recognizance and is scheduled to appear in court on June 7, in Belle Glade.

Detective John Carney said police responded to the shooting at 556 West Ave. A second floor, at about 5 p.m. to find Williams lying unconscious on the floor. He had apparently been shot once to the left side of the neck-shoulder area.

Williams was transported to Good Samaritan by helicopter from Glades General Hospital.

Carney said the shooting was apparently caused by a domestic argument between Williams and his girlfriend.

Det. Albert Dowdell is handling the case, which is still under investigation.

that he escaped through a door and then swam from the wreck.

Harley Mole, Terry Thompson and Ray Suggs were aboard the boat which plucked Veillon from the lake.

A second rescue boat, manned by Terry and Marvin Miller, tied a float to the plane to facilitate identification.

Veillon, a former Air Force pilot for eight years, said he was on his way to Pahokee Airport from Deland.

year's growth was.

Youchuck said the members are also becoming more active. "You can ask someone to help out on a project now, and he'll do it," he said.

Virtually all of the post members contributed to the legion's successes during the year, Youchuck added. First Vice President Frank Primmer said a goal for next year is to maintain the high level of participation and with it the high amount of success.

Of the 213 post members, two are original charter members, George Farnall Sr. and George Friedham have been members of the Post since its 1928 inception.

Post members must have served in the military during a time of conflict. Youchuck said there is growing sentiment that in the future legion bylaws should be amended to allow membership to anyone who has served in the military.

A majority of post members served their military time during World War II or the Korean War. Only about 20-30 Viet Nam vets have joined the post. Youchuck said one of the legion's goals is to add youth to its membership in the form of more Viet Nam vets.

"We have duty high respect for those that served in Viet Nam," he said. "This place is for all vets."

Another important change at the legion this year is the women's auxiliary. The group was presented its charter March 17.

Youchuck said the addition of the women was a "great asset" for the post. The women now help the post with just about all their projects, he said.

The increased activity of this year's legion is also apparent at the Post 20 headquarters. The post installed new bathrooms, an office and a storage room. Also a new air conditioning unit was added as one of the many renovations in the meeting room.

A new 25-inch color television adorns the lounge along with a microwave oven for snacks. And plans for a game and play room are in the works.

As it has always been, the post remains a social gathering place for its members.

The lounge is open every day, beginning at 4 p.m. Thursday nights is bingo nights, beginning at 7:30 p.m. for early birds and 8 p.m. for regulars.

Legion members meet every first and third Tuesday of the month. New officers will be elected at the upcoming May 1 meeting.

Housing

tion, for the most part, is done by volunteer work groups.

Brown noted that while Jubilee fostered rehabilitation of buildings, NOAH should also consider new construction. "This is a model of one way to approach housing. Each organization has to go with the way that is appropriate for that community," she said.

The potential of a community program such as NOAH or Jubilee extends way beyond just housing, Brown said. Jubilee offers sheltered work situations, job training, schools, holistic health care and several other services, she said.

"We're trying to do what is needed to help them (needy) get back in the main stream of self sufficiency," she said.

Jubilee makes little money on the rent of their units, Brown said, noting that about half of the rent is subsidized. A majority of funds come from donations, either from community members or foundations.

The Washington D.C. business community has given great support to the housing program, in the form of free services and even, in some cases, free full-time personnel, Brown said.

NOAH should ask the local business community for its support, Brown advised.

Jubilee does not use government funds. The organization went that route once, and decided it was "just one big headache," Brown said.

Margarita Simmons, founder and director of the Farm Workers' Self Help Inc. in Dade City, said NOAH should start with themselves before soliciting funds from others. "As people see what you're trying to do, they'll catch on to your vision," she said.

Farm Workers Self Help has helped provide 101 housing units in Dade City for farm workers, Simmons said. A big factor in the organization's success is the church, she said.

Simmons said she planned to visit several Belle Glade churches in the next few days, asking for support toward NOAH's housing dream. "The big lie is that churches don't care," she stated.

House said his community group would also offer any assistance possible to NOAH. Perhaps, the group can provide some needed professional services, he said.

Betsy Farrar, of NOAH, said the organization is trying to decide which route to take in selecting a housing program. By looking at several programs, such as Jubilee and Farmers Self Help, the group will get a better idea of what program is best suited for Belle Glade, she said.

Promising action in the near future, Farrar said, "We're going to get out of the talking stage and into the action stage."

Adams announces for commission

KEN ADAMS

BELLE GLADE -- A Republican, Adams is a retired Air Force officer. He founded True Value Hardware Stores in New York, and served as chairman of the board. He has lived in Florida since 1979.

The support of the Glades is of great personal importance, Adams said, adding that the area is a very important cog to the entire county. "I think the farming situation out here is terribly important to the entire nation," he said. Adams said his business background would help him contribute to the county's decision-making.

"Palm Beach County is not being run in a very business like manner," Adams said. "Its time the county had a business man sit on the table."

Adams is the fifth person to officially file for the commission seat. He will face fellow-Republican Arthur H. Walner, of West Palm Beach, in the Sept. 4 primary.

Democrats Frank Kohl, Loxahatchee; Luciano "Lou" Martinez, of West Palm Beach; and James P. Quigley, of Greenacres have also filed for the commission seat.

Bailey has said that he will not run for reelection, if a qualified candidate, who will represent the Glades, surfaces.

House said his community group would also offer any assistance possible to NOAH. Perhaps, the group can provide some needed professional services, he said.

Betsy Farrar, of NOAH, said the organization is trying to decide which route to take in selecting a housing program. By looking at several programs, such as Jubilee and Farmers Self Help, the group will get a better idea of what program is best suited for Belle Glade, she said.

Promising action in the near future, Farrar said, "We're going to get out of the talking stage and into the action stage."

Voters workshop set

BELLE GLADE -- A non-partisan voter deputizing workshop and buffet will be held Sat. April 28 at noon at the American Legion Post 20.

The meeting is sponsored by the Better Informed Glades Voters Organized to Elect (BIG VOTE). Gerry Edman, coordinator of the Palm Beach County Voter Outreach, will be the special speaker.

Door prizes will be awarded to three lucky ticket holders.

All Glades residents and community organizations are invited. Each guest is asked to bring a covered dish for the buffet dinner. A $2 donation is also requested.

Commissioners okay utility improvements

BELLE GLADE -- demanded more attention than originally projected.

About $13,405 in expenditures was approved by the commission to cover electrical equipment needed at the water treatment plant. The commission approved purchases of $2,110 for needed equipment at the sewage plant. Commissioners also approved a deduction of about $1,995 for unneeded equipment at the pollution control facility.

Commissioners had discussed all the approved items in a workshop meeting with the engineers, Monday.

Mayor Thomas Altman said the training program approval was a very significant action. The training and proper start-up should help insure the plant is run efficiently and well maintained, he said.

Overall, Altman said the city's utilities renovation is progressing "terrifically." Construction on both the water and sewage plants is way ahead of schedule, he commented.

City Manager W.E. "Tom" Strang said the water plant is projected for completion sometime in June, while the sewage plant should be completed in August.

Altman said both treatment plants should eventually bring "state of the art" technology and service to Belle Glade.

Also, commissioners approved expenditures of $13,000 to cover additional personnel at the plant. In a letter to the commission, Briley, Wild & Associates Engineers and Planners, supervising the construction, said the project

April 16. The commissioners also discussed the audit report for 1982-83 at the workshop and then approved it at Monday's meeting.

As part of the audit report, Nowlen, Holt, Miner & Kisker, the auditing firm, outlined the city's major accounting needs in a management letter.

City Finance Director Frank Anderson noted the management letter contained no surprises, nor reflected any major shortcomings. Overall, he added, the audit showed items in the city's accounting had improved last year.

SR80 deaths cause for alarm

On Sunday, April 21, three people died after a traffic accident on SR 80 near Six-Mile Bend. This accident brought the Glades highway death total to seven in a span of 11 days.

While each and every life lost verifies the need for statewide attention to the highway conditions in the Glades, the SR 80 accident was especially indicative of our dire need for road upgrading.

We wonder how many of those three people would be alive today, if SR 80 was four laned. Perhaps none, but certainly they would have had more of a fighting chance with two extra lanes of maneuvering room.

SR 80 and US 27 are death traps. But that's old-news. People have died on these two-lane roads for years.

Unfortunately, there is very little new news. There are plans to four-lane both roads, but these are future plans with vague deadlines.

We understand the state's fiscal problems and hesitance to spend millions of dollars in a sparsely populated area. Yet, we point to the seven dead as an unfortunate, but alarmingly clear answer to any doubts about the urgency of need for highway work.

Action is needed now. If that means revising the DOT priority list, or transferring funds from another area, then so be it. The longer the wait, the larger the Glades dead list will grow.

Bits Of History

Beryl Bowden

Dredge Boat Annie

The Corps of Engineers' Okeechobee Navigation and Flood Control Project was a superlative job in many ways; it had its beginning in the depression years when practically no big construction jobs were going on anywhere. It was a job of tremendous proportions and design and it stretched over a considerable territory east and west. Small wonder it attracted so much attention.

Local folk enjoyed many hours of "sidewalk supervision", parking cars along the roadside they could often watch the big draglines endlessly throwing huge dippers of dirt, or the dredges pouring forth their steady streams.

Dredges were obvious favorites of Marjorie Wallace, thus her nickname "Dredgeboat Annie". In her delightful "Castles in the Glades" column she described a visit to the Welatka.

"Capt. Fuller King's and First Mate Sallias" warm but formal welcome set the keynote of the visit. If you think you can park your manners in the car when you come aboard the dredge, you are plumb mistaken. This dredge takes more than I've got in the way of pre-incident adjectives. About the size of a city block she looks, very white and gleaming in the sunshine with her twin stacks cradling between them the "Castles" ensign.

"The Welatka exudes an aura of calm efficiency. Everything is in apple pie order, there is no rushing about, no yelling, no cussing; the men work quietly and hard, the 1550 galloping horses in the engine room work in tireless and lovely rhythms; no one seems to be in a hurry, but there is no lost motion. The dredge was built for Uncle Sam and she is a model of compact planning—even boasting, if you please, a guest room!"

"Dinner was exceeding good and beautifully served by a silent-footed waiter in a white coat, and a trip to the galley afterward revealed the most perfect cleanliness and order almost painful to behold."

"If you thought dredges were dirty drive out Lakport way and look at the Welatka. Watch them as they work sections to the pipeline at one time with tractor and portable A-frame and then watch the levee grow before your eyes. Watch their expert welder repair a minor break with the electric outfit on board. Taste the filtered, distilled water. Peek into the bunkrooms."

"Feast your eyes on the prettiest engine room you ever saw, and then feel sorry for the poor dredgemaster, if you can..."

On the job over on the east beach, the Gulfport dredge was brought in via St. Lucie Canal, where some maneuvering was needed to get it through and in to the Lake. The Congress and the Sarasota dredges had to throw up a dam across St. Lucie canal downstream to raise the water enough to even slide the Gulfport into the bypass. Mrs. Wallace wrote "A.H. Carter is captain and a bythe Irishman, J.P. Conroy, is engineer. The dredge stands for Patrick, it should. Conroy's specialty seems to be raising pedigreed steam turbines; the "he-one" sits in front of the main engine and runs the dynamo that runs the electric cutter that runs the business end of the dredge out at the tip of the stocky 100-ton ladder. There's 360 hp. on that cutter engine; the turbine can only muster up 6012 RPM's poor thing. The progeny of this papa turbine are in every possible space in the engine room and electric motors—they take up any space left by the turbines. There's also a complete machine shop in there. The Gulfport is a WHOLE SHOW—not as long as the Welatka but more stockily built. Capt. King and his Welatka are the greyhound type, while Capt. Carter and his Gulfport are the bull terrier type."

"The Alice and the Sarasota were also on the St. Lucie site digging out the channel; the Sarasota is a small woodburning steam dredge which gets its wood from the area along the canals. She is beautifully kept."

Occasionally the Castles column revealed bits of life among the engineers and contractor employees showing that it wasn't all work and no play. For instance:

"It becomes my disagreeable duty to speak of the chiselers at the dance Saturday night. So many people sneaked in without paying that somebody has to dig down to make up a considerable deficit. Of course if your sense of fairness should lead you to slip Mrs. Downs six bits you kept in your pocket Saturday night no one will be the wiser except your own self-respect, but it is a question of how much your self-respect is worth."

And "Fred Nebeker's wife and son have arrived to uphold their lord and master's morale while he struggles with American cuss-words."

And "Pete and Mrs. Pete are spending a week in Jax. Is the office to be congratulated, or consoled? Anyway, Pete gets a rest."

Finally, "Last Wednesday I helped usher into the world a new citizen, a 9½ pound girl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B.F. Fears, proud parents. So now it's time for me to go over and give young Katherine her bath and I must bid you a fond farewell....Any time you need me—"

Ailsa has left us to go into the book publishing business in Moore Haven.

For those of you who don't personally know Ailsa, she is just like her column: full of unexpected twists, bursts of insight, and a slicing wit.

I don't know how Ailsa could so consistently be funny each week, but somehow she always found the inspiration. There was enough inspiration there in fact to merit putting it into a book recently.

Ailsa was more than a columnist. She had also been editor of the Glades County Democrat, as well as serving at various times on the staffs of the Clewiston News and the Herald-Observer.

For all that this is a pretty dry eyed farewell, Ailsa is settling down just across the street from the Moore Haven's Lone Cypress.

"And Whatnot" may just return some day. Time will tell. In the meantime, best of luck to you Ailsa.

Have you noticed anything about the ink on our newspaper recently?

At the suggestion of press foreman Lee Drigurs, we have tried a new brand of ink. And from everything I can tell, it is now possible to read the paper with about half the ink ruboff as in the past.

Dale Carnegie Course offered in Glades

By TOM KISKEN

BELLE GLADE — Improving the way people deal with uncomfortable situations is among the goals of Dale Carnegie, according to a Carnegie instructor.

Carnegie representatives put on a sample inspirational workshop, Thursday, April 19, at the Holiday Inn. Buddy Folkner, of Dale Carnegie, said a 14-week course, sponsored by the Belle Glade Chamber of Commerce, will be offered in Belle Glade starting in May.

"We try to train and develop people," Folkner told the business executives who attended Thursday's workshop.

Everyone has a comfort zone, an area in which they feel comfortable, Folkner said. For some this includes home, office and church. "When we're in that comfort zone, we're at our best," he said.

Other areas in our life which we face make us feel uneasy, Folkner said, listing the doctor's office, crisis situations and public speaking engagements as areas which are often outside the comfort zone.

Dale Carnegie attempts to help people expand their comfort zone. To accomplish this, Carnegie instructors focus on improving the way people handle knowledge.

Knowledge, Folkner said, can be broken down into skills and attitudes. Skills are what people do with their knowledge, and attitudes reflect how they feel about their knowledge and skills.

Folkner said Carnegie focuses on improving several areas of skills and attitudes: memory, expression, enthusiasm and human relations.

Dave Castlen, Carnegie instructor, demonstrated how one can improve the memory skill.

Audience members gave Castlen 12 words to remember and then gave him a rapid fire quiz on the words. By associating with pictures, Castlen was able to recall most of the words. "We communicate in pictures," he explained.

Castlen also told the business executives that a positive attitude helps people deal with life. Optimism, he said, is the key to a success.

"90 percent of the things we worry about never happen," Castlen stated.

At the end of the workshop, Folkner told the audience that Carnegie will hold free, sample workshops at area business, if requested. Further information about the course can be obtained from the Chamber of Commerce, at 996-2745.

Belle Glade residents discuss the future

BELLE GLADE — Residents discussed the city's accomplishments over the last five years and aims for the future, Tuesday, April 24, at City Hall.

City Planning and Community Development Director Remar Harvin held a public hearing on the proposed update of Belle Glade's five-year comprehensive land use plan.

Harvin, who put the proposed plan together, said public input would be "invaluable." The plan, which has already been drafted in rough form three times, will be presented to city commissioners in workshops sometime this summer and is slated for adoption on Aug. 27.

The plan both reviews the city's progress over the last five years and specifies plans for the future.

"We describe where we were five years ago and where we are now," he said.

Generally, the city's growth has been positive over the last five years, Harvin said. "The city has accomplished many, many outstanding things," he said.

The future also looks bright, Harvin said. Among goals outlined in the five-year plan are: attracting industry to the area, upgrading zoning laws and increasing water capacity.

The completion of the water and sewage treatment plants are integral parts of the five-year plan. Harvin said a city's utilities capacity serves as a boundary for growth.

Much of the five-year plan deals with housing and land use. To a lesser extent traffic circulation is also dealt with.

Gary Morris—

beautiful "The Love She Found In Me," "The Wind Beneath My Wings," and more of Gary's songwriting, including the rockin' title of his established hit, "Why Lady Gary as a most unique country music artist."

Arriving in Nashville in the spring of 1980, Gary signed a recording contract with Warner Bros., with little fanfare, almost the same time he signed a publishing contract with Warner Bros. Music.

From the very beginning of his recording career, it was obvious that a new artist of stature had arrived. Appearing in the year for "The Love She Found In Me."

Gary's first album, Gary Morris, provided country music lovers everywhere with the chance to sample the breadth and freshness of Gary's formidable musical talents, including songwriting, nominated by the CMA.

For 1983, is a hot group of talented players who never fail to leave an audience begging for more. The same can be said of that portion of the show in which Gary steps out with just his acoustic guitar. From the Palomino in California, the Lone Star in New York, Gilley's and Billy Bob's in Texas and Duke's in Tulsa, to festivals and theme parks, Gary Morris is one of the most appealing live performers on the country circuit.

Exposure on television, including Austin City Limits, That's Country, NBC's Fantasy, Nashville Now, Inside Country Cookin' [Gary cooks up great

Bob Braun Show, Nashville Alive, NBC's Academy of Country Music Special, and such syndicated radio shows as Live From Gilley's, The Silver Eagle, America's Country Countdown and Country Crossroads have also helped to spread the word to a wide and appreciative audience.

Born and raised in Ft. Worth, Texas, Gary's musical roots run deep. His paternal grandfather was a musician who could "play anything with strings on it."

On his mother's side, his grandfather was a vocal teacher who wrote several hymns in the Baptist hymnal.

He began his musical career in his church choir. A talented athlete lettering in football, baseball, basketball, and track in high school, attending junior college in Cisco, Texas on a football scholarship, it was music that became the dominating force in his life. Although his choir activities continued through high school, he began playing guitar, writing his own songs, and singing professionally around Fort Worth in small groups as a solo artist. Since becoming a full-time musician in 1969, Gary has worked alone and in bands all over the U.S. polishing his craft and winning a fervent following.

His showmanship, was especially significant as part of a whistle-stop campaign tour with Jimmy Carter in 1976. Gary recalls that "we did 17 cities in two days." Performing at one of the Carter inaugural balls, people reported that Gary was the President and Mrs. Carter's favorite singer.

Assistance offered to crime victims

BELLE GLADE - Counseling, medical treatment, shelter and other services are available through the county for victims of rape, child abuse, incest and other crimes.

Representatives from various departments within the Palm Beach County Victim-Witness Services spoke at a victim's rights seminar, Thursday, April 19, at the Belle Glade Police Department. The seminar was one of the activities recognizing National Victims Right Week, April 15-21.

Robert Wells, director of Victim-Witness Services, said the purpose of the seminar was to show Glades residents what services are available. Few area residents currently take advantage of the county's victim services, he said. Financial assistance is, in certain cases, available to victims through the county's victim compensation services, Wells said. "This compensation is only a payer of last resort," he stressed, explaining that victims are not eligible for the compensation program, if they are covered by anything else.

Victims are not eligible if they were engaged in a crime at the time of the incident; if they suffered at the hands of a family or household member; if they are not Florida residents; and if they were a victim of a drunk driver.

The Florida State Legislature is currently considering a bill which would allow victims of drunk drivers to receive county compensation, Wells said.

Ann Moody, of the Domestic Assault Project, said her program includes: supportive crisis counseling; referral to the domestic assault shelter located in West Palm Beach; assistance in filing citizen's complaints; assistance with court cases; and social service referral.

Household crime, especially the abuse of children and women, occurs at an alarming rate, Moody said.

Often victims and perpetrators need deep seeded consultation. "It's a very complex problem," she said.

The Domestic Assault project can be reached at 837-2833.

Susan Kotowicz, of the outpatient clinic at Western Palm Beach County Mental Health Clinic in Belle Glade, said she is looking for help in starting a Glades shelter for domestic crimes' victims. "If anyone has the time or the energy to work, I'd be glad to work with you," she said.

The mental health clinic, at 996-8812, offers therapy to victims of domestic crime, including rape, incest and abuse, Kotowicz said.

Betty Wreich, of the Sexual Assault Assistance Project, said a rape experience "shakes a woman or man to their very soul."

The assault assistance project offers help for rape victims, including 24 hour on-call outreach; crisis counseling; and assistance with hospital and court proceedings.

Mike Parda, of the Children's Home Society, said his program is aimed at preventing child abuse and improving parenting skills.

The Home Society, at 844-9785, tries to get organizations and parents to meet and work together, Parda said. "Prevention comes from action and it comes from organizations coordinating," he continued.

Parda said the Home Society also offers a parent-child play group which encourages interaction.

Jim Arnone, of the CMS Child Protection Team, said, "What can be done to keep children protected - that's our number one goal."

The Child Protection Team, at 683-1611 extension 351, offers psychological and psychiatric exams for both victims and offenders of child abuse or incest. Physical exams, legal aid and consultation is also provided.

Arnone said that before acting on a rape or incest case, a task force of doctors, psychiatrists and consultants meet to determine the best strategy. This, he said, prevents a child from being deluged with doctors and psychiatrists who often serve merely to frustrate and annoy the victim.

The Children's Place, according to Linda Samimi, is a temporary shelter in West Palm Beach used by both abused children and temporarily homeless children.

The Children's Place can house up to eight children and six overnight, Samimi said, adding that all mothers need to send with their children is formula and diapers for infants and toddlers.

Counseling for parents is also available at the Children's Place, at 832-6185.

Wells also said Crisis Line operators will refer Glades residents to the appropriate department. The Crisis Line number is 996-1121.

Push continues to extend BG Airport runway

BELLE GLADE - Efforts continue to extend the Belle Glade Municipal Airport to its full 3,750-foot length.

Commissioners, in their meeting, Tuesday, April 24, approved an agreement in which the Florida Department of Transportation will pay half the cost of appraising and acquiring an additional 750 feet of land in front of the runway.

According to the agreement, DOT will not pay more than $105,000. City manager W.E. "Tommy" Strang explained that currently power lines and trees at the end of the runway prohibit pilots from using the entire runway.

Strang said he wants the city to buy this boundary property and then clear it, enabling the runway to be extended to its full length.

The first step, Strang said, is to get the property appraised, adding the DOT will pay half the appraisal cost. Even if the city can not reach an agreement with the landowner, all the city would have spent is half the appraisal cost, he noted.

In other city business:

✓ Commissioners agreed to limit the qualification period for municipal elections from 40 days to 14 days. Qualification this year will begin Friday, July 27 and run through Friday, August 10.

City Clerk June Boglioli requested the commission revise the period, saying the current period is by far the longest in the area. This long period puts a heavy burden on the clerks' office, which handles qualifications, she said.

✓ Strang was given the authority to begin exploring the possibility of updating the city's legal description of boundaries.

✓ Commissioner

Daniel Bythwood thanked Strang and Recreation Director Johnny Rutledge for their work in cleaning up Lake Shore Park. Bythwood said the park's appearance has improved considerably in recent weeks.

Bythwood said he still intends to recruit volunteers to provide supervision at the park.

✓ Mayor Thomas Altman made several proclamations, naming:

Municipal Clerks week; April 22-28 Professional Secretaries Week; May 20-26 National Public Works Week; and May 6-12 Hospital Week.

St. Peter's announces pre-school program

St. Peter's Lutheran School has announced plans to start a three-year-old pre-school program for the 1984-85 school year. Enrollment is now being accepted.

St. Peter's is offering two sessions for three-year-olds. Parents may enroll their children in either the morning session, which will meet from 8:15 a.m. to 11:50 a.m. or the afternoon session, which will meet from 12:20 p.m. to 4:00 p.m. The tuition charge is $500. per year, payable in ten monthly installments of $50. each. The registration charge is $50.

Nick Kieschnick, principal of St. Peter's, states, "The program we plan to offer is not just a baby-sitting service. Like the four-year-old program at St. Peter's, the new three-year-old program will have a specific curriculum. St. Peter's is very proud of the four-year-old program they have offered for the past six years. For the last several years, our four-year-old class has filled up very quickly and we expect the same thing to occur with our new three-year-old classes."

St. Peter's is in the process of calling a graduate from one of the Lutheran colleges whose major is early child education. The candidate has already expressed her positive intentions to accept the job and St. Peter's expects to announce this formally before the end of April.

Anyone who is interested in obtaining more information about the three-year-old program may do so by calling Nick Kieschnick at 996-2168.

Evening classes offered at West Tech

Many Glades area residents are learning new vocational skills and improving job skills in evening classes at West Technical Education Center according to Assistant Director Steve Stahlsmith. He has found that many adult students enroll for evening classes as a way to gain new or upgrade existing technical job skills.

Stahlsmith said adult vocational students are nearly always highly motivated and seem to enjoy the time spent in evening classes at the Center. After talking with many evening students, he feels that most students are learning new skills that can be used on the job, he said part-time evening classes are scheduled from 7 to 10 p.m. Monday through Thursday evenings.

Adults who want to enroll for evening classes should call 996-4930 or visit the center. A wide range of courses are offered in Agribusiness, business, distributive, industrial and trade education. # Cane Raisin' Fly-In set for weekend

By JIM JONES

Local residents will be able to take a stroll down aviation's memory lane or peer into its future Saturday and Sunday, April 28-29, at the second annual Cane Raisin' Fly-In at Clevelston Airport.

One of the hits of last year's Fly-In, the high performance experimental airplanes — sleek little contraptions with the prop behind the cockpit — will be back.

Also returning will be a variety of planes from aviation's early days, including open cockpit bi-planes which offer rides for a nominal fee.

A new addition this year is a Stinson Tri-Motor aircraft, an airplane little seen these days except in yellowing history texts.

The 1931 Stinson, painstakingly restored to its wood paneled glory, was an early passenger plane and will be taking paying customers up again this weekend.

The Stinson is the only one of its kind still flying. Flying clubs from all over the state will be represented at this weekend's fly-in and attendance is expected to be up from last year when aircraft of all descriptions blanketed the airport.

Fly-In organizers are hoping that the public will turn-out en masse to see the unique airplanes, hot air balloons, and aerobatic and aerial demonstrations.

Admission is $1 for adults and kids under 12 will be admitted free.

Proceeds will be used for airport improvements.

In addition to the aircraft there will be other entertainment and plenty to eat as well.

The band "Southern Thunder" will provide musical entertainment 4-6 p.m. Saturday.

Food

The Rotary Club will be serving a catfish dinner complete with hush puppies, cole slaw, beans, and iced tea from simultaneously with Southern Thunder's performance. Price is $6 for adults and $4 for children up to age 12.

Sunday, the Cane Raisin' Fly-In Committee will serve a hog roast dinner, including cole slaw, beans, corn and rolls. Price is $6.50 for adults and $4 for children 12 and under.

Food and other concessions will also be sold by Clevelston Air Search and Rescue, the Clevelston Chamber of Commerce, and the Miscellaneous Indians.

Fly-in dedication

This year's Fly-In will be dedicated to the late Sam Belk, manager of Clevelston Airport for nine years, said Suzanne Harper of Keep-Em-Flying Aircraft Services.

Belk began his association with aviation in 1932, when he first flew with his brother Frank Belk.

During World War Two, he worked with Douglas Aircraft on B-17 bombers in Long Beach, Calif.

Belk came to the Glades in 1949 and became manager of Clevelston Airport in 1967 after the death of Jim Cockrill, who had managed the airport since 1946.

Belk operated the airport until his death Nov. 25, 1976, at age 64.

His brother replaced him as airport manager for three years and will accept his award 1:30 p.m. Saturday. Sam Belk never married.

"Sam touched many people," said Frank Belk Monday.

Stinson Tri-Motor rich in history

The Stinson Tri-Motor airplane which will be at the Cane Raisin' Fly-In at Clevelston Airport this weekend is as rich in history as some of its better-known counterparts, the "Flying Jenny" and the "Spirit of St. Louis."

This Stinson airliner was one of 52 built in the early 1930s by the Stinson Aircraft Corp., and had luxury features such as a cabin toilet and wash basin with hot and cold water.

Plush mohair seats complemented the passenger craft when it served Century Airlines, a forerunner of American Airlines.

The Tri-Motor was rescued from a 20-year-old would-be grave in Manley Hot Springs, Alaska, in 1965 and in 1970 was sold to three Nenah, Wisc., men who have invested more than 10,000 man-hours rebuilding it with painstaking attention to originality.

On Nov. 27, 1981, the Federal Aviation Administration issued a new air worthiness certificate and two weeks later, one of the trio, Bill Brennand, a national air racing champion, took NC11170 up. It was the first time it had flown in more than 35 years. The original date of manufacture was March 14, 1931.

Now in the tradition of Eddie Stinson, its developer and aviation pioneer during the Roaring 20s, the airliner is barnstorming the nation offering rides back into aviation history.

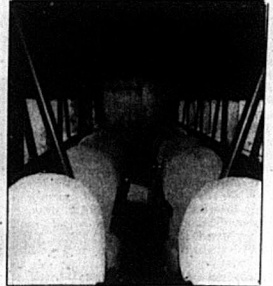

There are only two Stinson Tri-Motors left, making this one probably the rarest and most valuable privately owned antique airplane in existence today.

The Stinson was the mainstay for many of the early airlines in the 1930s for several reasons, not the least of which was its $25,000 selling price, which was less than half the Ford Tri-Motor.

Its development came at a critical time. The Fokker Tri-Motor and Curtiss Condor were outdated and the Ford was too expensive for

Just as it replaced the Fokker and Curtiss, it too soon became obsolete for the rapidly expanding airlines. By World War II it was relegated to flying freight for Wein Alaska Airways and in 1946 was parked along a runway and cannibalized for two decades before being rescued by J. D. Berry of Fairbanks, Alaska.

The aircraft today is as stunning as it was a half century ago. It is a 60 foot wingspan and three 225 horsepower Lycoming engines which carry it along at a cruising speed of 110 miles per hour.

Aerial herbicide banned

Aerial applications of certain phenoxy-type herbicides and dicamba are banned in four counties until May 1 under an emergency rule filed April 16 by Commissioner of Agriculture Doyle Conner. The herbicides are blamed for several crop damage incidents this spring in Hendry County.

Counties where the ban will apply in addition to Hendry are Glades, Palm Beach and Martin Counties, the area where sugarcane is grown in the Everglades farm area. Vegetable growers have said applications of the herbicides on cane fields have caused damage on adjacent vegetable fields.

Conner discussed the herbicide problem with vegetable and sugarcane growers Friday in Clevelston and decided on the temporary ban at that time. The emergency rule was filed today, effective immediately.

Conner earlier had filed a statewide emergency rule placing the herbicides on the Florida restricted-use pesticide list, requiring the filing of advance notice of intended use of the products involved. This was designed to inform the Florida department of Agriculture and consumer Services when and where the products were to be used so the applications could be monitored or modified.

"Several crop damage complaints submitted by vegetable growers in Hendry County were investigated by the department in February and March," Conner said. "The data indicated significant damage and loss due to the movement and drift of certain phenoxy-type herbicides from areas of application to susceptible crops."

Conner said the investigation has not pinpointed responsibility for the damage because of the widespread use of the products in the area and the ability of the chemicals to move for long distances on the wind. The chemicals have not previously been restricted, and no records of application are required on non-restricted pesticides, he added.

The ban on aerial application applies to 2,4-D, 2,4-DB, 2,4-DB, MCPA, 2,4,5-T, MCPP, Silvex, Bifenox, and dicamba.

Further, the emergency rule restricts ground or aquatic application of these products to periods when the wind is less than 5 miles per hour, velocity, using spray nozzle pressure of 25 pounds per square inch or less. Application must be under the supervision of a licensed applicator. All label instructions must be followed.

Wetlands bill favorable to ag

The wetlands bill passed out of the House Natural Resources Committee Tuesday, April 17. According to Dave Mica, Florida Farm Bureau Federation director of legislative affairs, the bill is much different than the one introduced months ago, but changes are still possible.

"The bill that came out of the committee gives the state the means to regulate critical wetlands," Mica said. "As of this moment, the bill has an agricultural exemption that provides for the continuation of ag activities without additional permitting by the Department of Environmental Regulation. Farm Bureau's position on the bill is that we don't want DER to have any increased jurisdiction over wetlands," he said. "Those agricultural activities that currently require permits will be permitted through the water management districts. Among the provisions included in the bill is a farm pond provision. "The farm pond issue will be resolved by the bill. It allows farm ponds to be built with best management practices without going through DER. Now, the individual will go through the water management districts," he said.

Farnall - Collins wed in double ring ceremony

Tina Lynn Farnall and Kirby Lee Collins were wed April 25 at the chapel of the Community United Methodist Church. The double-ring ceremony was performed at three o'clock in the afternoon, with Reverend Harry Russell officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Farnall of Belle Glade. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Collins of Palm Beach Gardens.

The altar was decorated with a arrangement of large white gladioli, mums, and fuji mums, backed with gerber daisies. Surrounding the altar was a display of lady pals.

The bride wore a white gown of sheer polyester knit with chantilly-type lace, lined in acetate taffeta. A cameo, a family heirloom, adorned the modified queen anne neckline.

The fitted empire bodice was simulated with pearls and sequin accents. The sleeves, fully laced, tapered to the wrist. The train of the bridal gown, also fully laced, was of chapel-length. The headpiece consisted of a Juliette cap with lace and a quail trim. The fingertip-length veil consisted of nylon netting and chantilly-type motifs.

The bridal banquet was a cascade of white tiera roses with stephanotis and lily. Dianne Farnall, sister of the bride, served as maid of honor. Dianne wore a gown of lustrous polyester knit with a lace stand-up collar, which was subergine in color. It consisted of a fitted empire bodice with a flared skirt. A comb of polyester flowers, also subergine in color, were worn in her hair.

The maid of honor carried a bouquet of off-white gerber daisies, backed with galax leaves and lavender wax flowers.

The groom wore a black "Pierre Cardin" tuxedo, with white shirt, and black bow tie. His boutonniere consisted of a single white tiera rose.

The best man, Bucky Howse, wore a black tuxedo with a white ruffled shirt trimmed in violet, and a black bow tie.

Steve and Nathan Collins, both brother of the groom, served as ushers. Steve and Nathans tuxedos were identical to that worn by the best man. They each wore a white tiera rose as a boutonniere.

The brides mother wore a lilac dress of polyester crepe knit, with collar and sleeves of sheer polyester chiffon.

The groom's mother wore a blue dress of polyester knit, with pleated bodice and ruffles around the waistline.

The brides mother and groom's mother both wore orchid corsages.

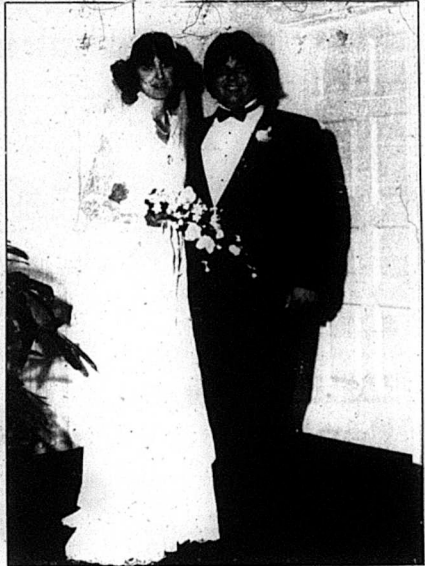

The church parlor was used for the reception. Punch, mints, nuts, and cake were served to guests.

Two tables were used for serving. On one table sat the 5-tiered wedding cake, which was white and trimmed with violet flowers. A fountain, surrounded by fern and silk flowers, was placed at the bottom of the cake. A silver candelabrum sat on each end of the table.

An arrangement of wax flowers and gerber daisies were used for the punch table.

Faye Woods kept the bride's book. Mary Beth Shirley and Laine Davis served as hostesses. They each wore corsages made of carnations and lavender wax flowers.

Following a honeymoon trip to Epcot Center in Orlando, Florida, Tina and Kirby plan to make their home in North Carolina.

Easter and Exodus

The shedding of blood is a terrible thing. The killing of a child is unforgivable, but God secures the release of the children of Israel from Egypt by killing the first born son of Pharaoh and his countrymen.

The release of mankind from the slavery of sin brought about by God's allowing the shedding of his own Son's blood.

How is the Passover in Egypt related to the crucifixion of Christ? Does the Exodus of the Israelites have any connection with the victory of Easter?

The passover narrated in Exodus tells of the smearing of the blood of lambs on the doorposts and over the doors so that the angel of the Lord would passover and not kill the firstborn of the house therein. The Egyptians were unaware of the saving blood.

The massacre of the innocent Egyptian children was the climax of the plagues which the Lord God brought upon Pharaoh to convince him of the sovereignty of the Israelite deity.

The Children of Israel had to be free and able to go to Canaan. They had to be convinced of the power of their God Yahweh.

The Passover came to be the focal point of the Hebrews' religion for centuries. Therefore it had to be overwhelming. The people of God whose covenant was sealed with Abraham was reaffirmed in the saving blood of the lambs used in the Passover of Egypt.

It was necessary because Yahweh had to let the Egyptians and the world know that He would not tolerate their kind of treatment of His people, nor the unbearable pride of Pharaoh.

The abomination of Pharaoh brought the terrible judgment of Yahweh. This display of wrath brought good for the Israelites who have never forgotten the Passover - their deliverance from the land of Egypt.

Looking back on the perhaps at God's action, but we are judging God by our own standards. An act which was tremendous enough to change the belief of a pagan ruler and his leader had to be unique and awesome because Yahweh was not just another God.

At the same time, Yahweh had to establish Himself as sovereign over all of life and as One who gave His people reason to have faith in Him.

Finally, let us look at the Exodus and its relationship to the New Testament event of the Resurrection, including both the Passover and the Crucifixion.

Moses becomes the mediator between God and His people. Moses leads the people of Israel to freedom. The blood of the lamb becomes the salvation of the firstborn of Israel. The death of the firstborn of Egypt is the final act to bring the release of the Israelites. The whole event is an expression of God's grace, freely given.

The freedom of Israel became complete, however, in Christ. For Christ is the new mediator who deliver the people of God from their slavery and bondage to sin.

The covenant of God renewed by the slaying of the lamb at Passover is ratified once and for all by the blood of the lamb of God, even Jesus Christ.

We are the people of God in new exodus and new freedom, being redeemed and released to a new life in Christ. The new covenant is established by Christ in His Death and Resurrection.

We do not eat the Lord's Supper, which reminds us of the new deliverance at the cross and the new exodus in the Resurrection.

As the Exodus dominates the Old Testament, so the Gospel or good news of Jesus Christ dominates the New Testament.

Let this event of the crucifixion and resurrection - the shedding of blood and the victory over sin and death - dominate your life, that you might know the sovereign and saving power of God's love in Christ. It is a love which sets you free and sustains you so that you might truly live a life which is meaningful and full of love.

Clewiston, Pahokee to scrap for district track title

Pahokee is but one of a host of contenders hoping to depose Clewiston as Class 2A state track and field champions.

Pahokee gets its shot 3 p.m. Friday, April 27, when the Class 2A District championships crank up at Clewiston's Cane Field.

Also figuring in the picture is dark horse contender Rockledge. Other schools taking part include Lemon Bay, Cocoa Beach, DeSoto, Florida Air Academy, Melbourne Central Catholic, LaBelle, Fort Pierce John Carroll, St. Cloud, Immokalee, and Fort Myers Bishop Verot.

"We have a good chance to win it," says Pahokee Blue Devil Coach Antoine Russell.

While Pahokee does not have the depth of some previous years, it does have quality athletes. Last week Pahokee finished second in the Palm Beach County Conference track championship behind Glades Central.

Russell is counting heavily on the performances of three athletes Friday: Cecil Dryden, who won the conference 440 yard dash with a time of 49.6; Jeffrey Frost who was second in the 880 with a time of 1:58; and Venton Oliver, who won the 120 high hurdles with a time of 14.59.

Clewiston Coach Al Morrell says a number of teams have a sprinkling of talent, but none appear to have the overall strength of either Clewiston or Pahokee.

"Rockledge will be in there, but I still feel like it will be Pahokee and us," he said.

"I'll be disappointed if we don't win it all," Morrell said.

Clewiston should get strong performances from Wycliffe Lovelace in the shot and the discus, Titus Dixon in the sprints, Ricky Fernandez in the mile and two mile, and Michael Holmes and Robert Collier in the hurdles.

Two other athletes who won't be competing in any individual running events will make themselves felt in the relays. Hal White and Lyndon Whitehall are running on all three of Clewiston's relays.

Preliminaries in Friday's districts begin at 3 p.m., followed by field events at 4. Finals start at 6:30 p.m.

Girls districts

The Class 2A girls district competition will be held at Cane Field simultaneously with the boys events Friday.

Pahokee brings the defending state championship team to the meet.

Coach Eddie Rhodes reports that he has several injuries and is not sure how his team will perform.

"We want to do the best we can. We always want to win," said Rhodes.

Several of his athletes scored well at the Palm Beach County Conference meet, including Pam Law, third in the long jump and 100 yard dash; Beverly Hickman - second in the quarter mile; and Allene Addie, a stalwart in the relays.

Clewiston Coach Mike House says the girls meet will be a "shootout" and that the picture is a bit muddled because the teams have competed little against each other this year.

House hopes for good performances from Latonja Dixon and Chris Loper in the hurdles and Evelyn Ross in the long jump. Ross' 17.3 in the long jump is the best of any of the athletes coming into the meet.

House says to look for Clewiston, Pahokee, DeSoto, and Cocoa Beach to have a major say in how things go Friday.

Raiders win County Conference track title

BELLE GLADE -If the old adage-practice makes perfect-holds true, then the Glades Central Community High School boys and girls track teams are becoming perfect winners.

Both squads again easily outdistanced the rest of the field on the way to championships in the Palm Beach County Athletic Conference South Division meet, held Thursday, April 26, at Glades Central.

The boys scored 150 points to take first place with winners in eight different events.

The Pahokee boys, competing against virtually all 3A schools, also fared well, with a second place finish and 57.5 points.

Ten event winners led the Raider girls to victory. Glades Central scored 134.5 points, more than half the total of runner-up Atlantic.

The Pahokee girls finished fourth in the meet with 42 points, behind third place Santaluces.

Boys

Glades Central Coach Willie McDonald said his team performed well, especially considering that three tracksters were held back from the meet with injuries.

Five Raiders won individual events: Eric Smith, 880, 1:58.4; John Ford, 220, 21.9; Joseph Abrams, shot put, 53-3/4; Rhondy Weston, discus, 139-5; and Terry Moore, high jump, 6-2. Three Glades Central teams also ran to victory: David Billing, Alonzo Allen, Clyde Benjamin and John Ford, 42.7, 440-yard relay; Benjamin, Allen, Youssef Muslet and Santonio Holmes, mile medley, 3:38; and Alfred Field, Holmes, Thomas Stewart and Smith, mile relay, 3:22.

McDonald said his team should do well in the district meet, this Thursday, April 19 in Santaluces if they can repeat recent performances. He noted that while both Willie Munroe and Willie Sneed are probably out for the year with injuries, sprinter Eric McPhoe will try to rebound from injury in the districts.

The top four competitors in each event at Thursday's meet will advance to the regional meet, held the following week in Miami, and McDonald noted his goal is to get as many team members as possible into the regional.

Pahokee Coach Antoine Russell said his Blue Devils did very well in Thursday's meet, considering the calibre of the competition. The team is blossoming at the right time, he said.

Venton Oliver led the Blue Devils with a victory in the 120 high hurdles, finishing the event in 14.59. Cecil Dryden also added a victory to the Pahokee total with a 49.6 time in the quarter-mile run.

Jeffrey Frost finished second in the 880 with a 1:58 time.

Girls

Raider girls readied for Thursday's district journey, also held at Santaluces, with a solid performance in the conference meet.

Evette Lyman won three events for the Raiders, while Rechina Johnson and Angela Jones each won two events.

Lyman won the 220-yard dash with a 25.25 time, the high jump with a 5-4 effort and the 100-yard dash in 11.05.

Jones won the discus with a 112.9 toss and also took honors in the shot put with 37-9/16 mark. Johnson outdistanced the field in the 110 hurdles with a 14.7 time and also took the 330 hurdles in 47.56. Pearlite Hill also won the 880 with a 2:28.9 time.

Both the mile medley and mile relay teams won their events. Jones, Lyman, Leontye Mann and Garcia Tucker finished the mile relay in 4:05.1. Shawn Bynum, Joan Hart, Tucker and Gladys Milton won the medley in 4:32.1.

Coach Jay Seider said his team's chances in Thursday's district are very good. The goal, he said, is to have the girls competing in the events where they have the best chance at advancing to the regionals and then on to state.

Pahokee Coach Eddie Rhodes said he was a little disappointed with his team's fourth place finish. "I'd hoped we would do a little better," he said.

Several girls did perform very well, he noted. Pam Laws finished third in the long jump and the 100-yard dash, while also helping the mile medley team to a second-place finish and the 440-yard relay to a third-place mark.

Beverly Hickman finished second in the 440-yard dash and was also a member of the mile medley squad. Eighth grader Melissa Pinkney did an excellent job, Rhodes said, finishing third in the 880.

Allene Addie also continues to perform well on all the Blue Devil relay squads, Rhodes continued.

The Pahokee mile relay squad finished fourth at the meet.

Gator girls win in opener

BELLE GLADE -The Gators girls' softball team beat Indian River Academy 18-3, Tuesday, April 24, in their district opener.

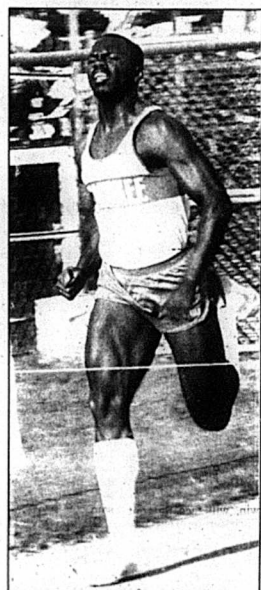

The girls led 14-0 after four innings and scored in every inning but the fourth.

Kathy Cupstid and Becky Teets each slapped three hits for the Gators.

The girls will play Thursday at 1 p.m. with the finals held Friday at 3 p.m.

Coach Mandy Perez noted the Gators, 11-4, were undefeated throughout the season against district opponents.

If the team's pitchers, particularly Mary Lynn Thompson, continue to perform as they have all year, and PAHOKEE'S Vinton Oliver won the 120 hurdles at Thursday's meet.

EVETTE LYMAN, of Glades Central, sprints to victory in Thursday's conference meet.

Christian Day School holds Field Day April 12

BELLE GLADE -Taking a break from the routine of academics, Christian Day School students and faculty tumbled, jumped and cavorted their way through Field Day, Thursday, April 12.

Students in all grades competed against each other in four events: volleyball, basketball, relays and obstacle course. The eighth grade came out of the day's fun as the overall winner, with seniors finishing second, and juniors winding up third. The sophomores finished first in basketball, the seniors bested the field in relays and volleyball, while the juniors came out in top in the obstacle course.

The faculty took on the students winners in basketball and volleyball and came out on top both times.

Crusader softball team faces Benjamin

BELLE GLADE -The Christian Day School girls softball squad will face number four seed Benjamin, Wednesday, at 3 p.m. at King's Academy.

If the girls can win Thursday, they'll play Thursday in the semifinals. The championship game will be played Saturday, at 3 p.m.

Coach David Dailey, noting that his team will probably have to beat both Benjamin and Jupiter Christian to make it to the finals said, "It's going to be tough, but we have the capacity to win."

The Crusaders finished the regular season with a 6-9 record, winning their finale, 7-5, to

Thompson named new Pahokee football coach

By TOM KISKEN

PAHOKEE — Pahokee High School's new football coach says the opportunity to head the Blue Devil grid squad is a dream come true.

Pahokee born and raised Don Thompson, 44, said of last week's announcement that he will replace Amos Turner as head football coach, "this is the greatest joy of my life. It's a job I always dreamed of."

Thompson says he knows the way to pay back the administrators who hired him. "My goal is the state championship. How soon? We'll pray and start working toward it this season."

A 1958 Pahokee High School graduate, Thompson played three years for the Blue Devils back in the late '50s as a guard and linebacker under Coach Webb Bell.

He also played college football, three years at Citadel College, in Charleston, S.C., and one year at the University of Arkansas. Upon graduation, Thompson coached at Pahokee High for three years as an assistant under Pell.

Currently a day-to-day substitute teacher at the school, Thompson arrived on campus about two weeks ago, coming from Orlando where he operated a strength and fitness business.

Thompson replaces Turner, who is leaving Pahokee High, effective the end of this year, after an one-year stay to return to his hometown Madison.

Spring drills for the Blue Devils begin May 1 and Thompson said he's already mapping out strategy for the coming year. He noted however that his preliminary plans will be revised to match the team's talent.

The focus during spring drills will be on fundamentals, "blocking and tackling," Thompson said.

One of the first tasks Thompson will face is evaluating talent and determining needs. He noted that while he has not had a chance to evaluate the team's talent, several of the assistant coaches have coached the team for several years and are very familiar with the squad.

Thompson's staff will include: Don Bower, offensive coordinator; Antoine Russell, backs; Eddie Rhodes, defensive coordinator; Sandy Hyemam, specialty teams; and Jerome Govan,

Junior variety coaches include Rip Radcliffe, Otis Jordan, Jerome Govan and Ben Johnson.

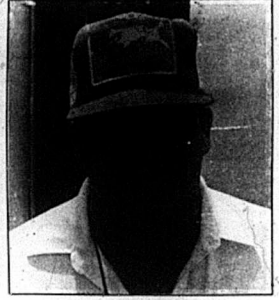

The team is already working on a weight program 6-7 days a week which, Thompson said, compares with any in the area. "I think our success will be directly related to our hard work in the weight room," he added.

Thompson said that if he has the talent, the Blue Devils will be a passing team this year. "I'll be as liberal as my talent will allow me to be," he said.

Keys to a successful Blue Devil season include aggressive play, total effort and intensity, Thompson said.

The Blue Devils will see their first game action under the new head coach, May 25 in a spring jamboree at Martin High School. Martin County South Fork and Glades Central will also participate in the jamboree.

"I invite everybody out to watch us this spring and we'll everybody's support in the fall," Thompson concluded.

District baseball playoffs to begin

Christian Day School

BELLE GLADE — The Christian Day School Crusaders began district play Wednesday, April 25, at Palm Beach Junior College North Campus, in North Palm Beach.

The Crusaders were scheduled to face the winner of a St. Edwards-Indian River game, which had not yet been announced at press time.

If victorious, the Crusaders will face either King's Academy or Berens Christian, Thursday, at 3 p.m. The finals will be held Friday, at 3 p.m. in North Palm Beach.

CDS, 10-4 for the year, was seeded fourth in the tourney behind Benjamin, Jupiter Christian and Benjamin. Crusader Coach Phil Mullins said, if his team plays well, the district title is well within reach.

"I feel we have a pretty good chance, as good a chance as anyone," Mullins said. "We're going to have to continue to play well defensively and start hitting."

Mullins agreed with the pollsters that King's Academy will probably provide the toughest competition.

CHRISTIAN DAY SCHOOL slugger James Barnwell.

Glades Central

BELLE GLADE — The Glades Central Community High school baseball team started the district tourney on the right foot with a 6-2 victory over Spanish River, Tuesday, April 24.

The Raiders, 7-10, faced Cardinal

ing on the way to a 5-1 lead. The Raiders added an insurance tally in the fifth.

Jorge Cruz pitched a five-hitter for the Raiders. Lionel Camel, Fred Jones and Darrell Sanders each had extra base hits for the Raiders.

Glades Central scored two runs in the second and fourth in-

Pahokee High School

PAHOKEE — The Pahokee High School baseball team faces Belle 4 p.m., Thursday, April 26, in the opening game of the district tourney in Fort Myers at Terry Park.

Coach Gary McEntire said that if his team continues to play as they have in recent weeks, the Blue Devils could bring home a district title. "If we play like we have been, we have a good chance," he said. Clewiston and Bishop Verot will probably be the favorites in the district competition, McEntire said. The Blue Devils lost twice to Clewiston during the regular season, and did not face Bishop Verot.

The Blue Devils finished the regular season with a 5-19 mark. However, McEntire said the record does not reflect the team's improved play over recent weeks.

The Blue Devils have been playing solid

Glades Day School

BELLE GLADE — The Glades Day School baseball team opened district play with an 18-3 victory over Palm Vista, Monday, April 23.

The Gators were scheduled to face Benjamin Wednesday, April 25, and if they win, will face Summit Christian on Thursday and then play in the finals, Friday at 3 p.m., at the Palm Beach

Junior College North Campus.

Coach Tom King said he is confident the team can do well. The team's goal is still to win the state title, he added.

"We've felt all along that we have a good baseball team," he said.

Glades Day, 11-6-1, rode a one-hitter by pitchers Johnny Telles and Mike Mills to victory over Summit Christian.

Eric Browder had three hits for the Gators and six RBIs. Brian Lehmann also had three hits, while Roland Sweet and Mike Schlechter knocked out homers for Glades day.

The Gators scored in every inning to take control of the game.

Students to explore incentive system

Three students from Belle Glade will attend a three-day weekend at the University of Miami in Coral Gables April 27-29.

Sharon Diane Sims, an honor student from Glades Day School, is a member of FHA and the Order of Rainbow for Girls. She is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Gary P. Sims.

Aubin Wade Robinson, an honor student at Glades Central High School, is the sophomore class president and a member of the Glades Central marching and concert band. He is the son of Mrs. Cecilia Robinson.

Debbie Davis is a star student at Christian Day School, a member of the Key Club and Crusader Choir. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Davis.

The Woman's Club of Belle Glade and the Rotary Club are sponsoring the students for the conference. Over 8,000 sophomores are participating in 66 seminars in all 50 states this month.

The purpose of the weekend is to explore America's incentive system. The students have received materials to study about the foundations of free

St. Lucie Estuary. "We all had been hopeful that April would bring dry weather so that Lake Okeechobee would begin dropping naturally," said John Wodraska, Acting Director of the South Water Management District. "That has not been the case, however, and the Corps has had to step up discharges to 2,500 cubic feet per second [cfs]."

"This is usually the period of highest evaporation off of Lake Okeechobee, so if the rainfall follows normal patterns for this time of year, we probably will not have to make heavy discharges," Wodraska said. "On the other hand, if heavy rains continue, major discharges are inevitable."

Wodraska noted that discharges at moderate levels have been made from Lake Okeechobee since February. This was the first time the Corps has made such discharges in anticipation of high water conditions, rather than waiting until Lake Okeechobee rose over its schedule to make releases. In the past, that procedure has resulted in very heavy discharges being made, causing serious environmental damage to the estuary.

This year, in an effort to avoid that type of damage, the Water Management District requested that the Corps begin early discharges. They agreed.

"We believe this procedure has been beneficial for several reasons," Wodraska said. "The Lake has remained relatively steady, in spite of the fact that heavy rains have poured great amounts of water into it. Normally, this would have caused a drastic rise in the Lake, with consequent massive discharges to the estuary. We have been able to avoid those. In addition, the estuary has had a chance to adjust gradually to the introduction of fresh water. Traditionally, discharges have caused a shock-effect in the estuary. That has also been avoided this year," he said. "We have no way of knowing what type of weather we will be experiencing for the remainder of the spring, but so far we feel this procedure has worked extremely well," he said.

Play group for pre-schoolers offered

BELLE GLADE - The Children's Home Society will offer a play group for pre-schoolers and their parents on Tuesday mornings from 10 a.m. to noon at the Lake Shore Civic Center.

There is no charge for the sessions. For more information, call toll free 1-800-433-0010 or come to the Lake Shore Civic Center on Tuesday morning to sign up for the activity.

Alumnae plan trip to Atlantis

The Glades Alumnae Chapter, Delta Sigma Theta, Inc., is sponsoring a trip to Six Flags Atlantis, Hollywood, Florida on Saturday, May 5.

Six Flags Atlantis is a water attraction with slides, a game room and facilities for small children. Participants will need to bring swim wear, towels and a change of clothes. There will be life guards at the facilities.

The cost of the trip, including transportation, admission and all attractions at Six Flags Atlantis is $20. This will need to be paid by April 30, to ensure a seat on the bus. You can pay by check, money order or cash. Checks or money orders should be made payable to Delta Sigma Theta. Your child will be issued a receipt.

Children participating should bring with them a pack lunch or extra money for food. The bus will be leaving on Saturday morning at 8:30 a.m. from the Lake Shore Civic Center Parking lot. It should be returning there around 7 p.m. Saturday evening.

Please make sure that someone is there to receive your child upon returning to Belle Glade.

If you have questions, you may call Mrs. Eddie Queen Blakely at 996-8068, Ms. Gail Davis at 996-3124 or Mrs. LaVoise Stephenson at 996-3048.
